

No. 1

Would you like to see our dessert menu, sir?
No, thanks. I'm full. Everything was great.
How about something to drink, then?
1 By credit card, please.
2 Just some cake, please.
3 I'll have a cup of tea, please.

No. 2

Coach, how much longer do we have to run?
Another 20 minutes, Joe. Don't give up now!
But I'm really tired. Can I rest for just a minute?
1 OK, take a break.
2 Yes, I think we'll win.
3 I can't, either.

No. 3

Hello, this is Franklin Pet Shop. How may I help you?
Hi. Do you sell rabbits at your store?
I'm sorry, we don't, ma'am. But I think Pet World does.
1 I see. I'll call them and ask.
2 Thanks. I'll take two, please.
3 OK. I'll see you

No. 4

I'm going to my school's dance party tonight, Dad.
OK, but please come home by eleven o'clock.
Actually, can you come and pick me up after the party?
1 Just call and I'll come.
2 The party finished late.
3 You need to be there on time.

No. 5

Excuse me, driver. Is this the bus to Eastern Park?
No. You need to take Bus No. 12. You can catch it at the corner.
Do you know when it'll come?
1 It's cheaper than the train.
2 It doesn't stop there.
3 It should arrive soon.

No. 6

Bob, I think I'll buy these shoes for Dad. He needs some new sneakers.
Don't buy them until he's tried them on, Linda.
But they're his size, right?
1 No, I don't have his shoes.
2 Oh, they're not mine.
3 Yes, but they may not fit him well.

No. 7

Allison, can I look at your history notebook?
Why, Jim? Didn't you take notes in class?
I did. But my writing is so bad that I can't read them.
1 No, I don't have a pen.
2 OK, I'll lend it to you.
3 Well, please help me.

No. 8

Excuse me, ma'am. Please don't feed the monkeys in this zoo.
I just wanted to give them a banana.
The sign says you can't do that.
1 Sorry, I didn't see it.
2 The monkeys are hiding.
3 I'm really hungry.

No. 9

Where did you go for lunch today, Erika?
To that new Indian restaurant across the street.
How was it?

1 I think so, too.
2 With my family.
3 It was a little expensive.

No. 10

Hi, Angela. It's James. Do you want to come over to my house today?
Sure—after I finish cleaning up my room.
How long will that take?
1 With a vacuum cleaner.
2 In the living room.
3 About two hours.

No. 11

Wow! There are so many people here, Maiko.
Yeah, this is one of the most popular beaches in Japan.
I've never seen such a crowded beach before. I should take a picture to show to my family in Canada.
I'll take a picture with you in it. Stand over there.
Q: What will Maiko do for the man?

No. 12

Hello?
Hi, Julia. It's Dan. I'm calling to ask you about our math homework for tomorrow.
Oh. Can I call you back in an hour?
Sure, no problem. Are you busy?
Yeah. I have to finish making dinner. My parents aren't home tonight.
Q: Why can't Julia talk to Dan now?

No. 13

Excuse me. Where is the cafeteria at this university?
There are two of them. The one in Smith Hall is better.
Great. Where is that?
Do you see that tall building over there? That's it. You'll see the cafeteria as soon as you enter it.
Q: What is the man looking for?

No. 14

Did you sleep well last night, Pam?
Yeah, Dad. I dreamed I was a famous singer. I was giving a concert.
Well, you're good at singing. Maybe your dream will come true.
That would be nice. But I'll need to take singing lessons first.
Q: What did Pam dream about?

No. 15

Clarksville Public Library.
Hi. I think I left my coat on a chair when I was there this morning.
What floor were you on, sir?
The third floor. I was sitting near the newspaper section.
Q: Why is the man calling the library?

No. 16

Good afternoon, ma'am. Welcome to Jake's Bike Shop.
Hello. Can you repair the tire on my bike?
Let me see. Oh, it's a simple problem. I can fix it in a few minutes.
You can wait here if you like.
Great. I'll do that.
Q: What does the woman say she will do now?

No. 17

Fall is my favorite season. Look at the colorful leaves.
Yeah, they're really pretty. And there are a lot of delicious foods to eat in the fall.
What's your favorite season?
It's winter, because I like to go skiing.
Q: What is one thing the man says?

No. 18

Excuse me. My son needs a haircut. He's going to play in his kindergarten's concert this weekend.

I see. Well, I'll do my best to make him look good.

He's nervous because he's never been to a barbershop.

Don't worry. I'll show him a video while I cut his hair.

Q: What does the woman want the man to do?

No. 19

Harry, have you ever thought about getting a dog?

No. It's a lot of work to keep a dog, and my apartment is really small.

Oh. How about a smaller pet, like a hamster?

Well, I don't really have time to take care of a pet.

Q: What is one thing we learn about Harry?

No. 20

Bonnie, did you get homesick while you were studying abroad?

A little. The thing I missed most was my mom's cooking.

Yeah. When I did a homestay in Germany, I missed my mom's cooking, too. But she sent me a lot of food from home.

Wow! That's so nice.

Q: What did Bonnie miss most while she was studying abroad?

No. 21

Dr. Tanaka is a dentist in Tokyo. Recently, many foreign patients have been coming to his clinic. Some of them can't speak Japanese, and Dr. Tanaka wants to communicate with them in English. As a result, he has started taking English lessons. Dr. Tanaka can't speak very well yet, but he is studying hard.

Q: What does Dr. Tanaka want to be able to do?

No. 22

Nicole bought a used car last month. While she was driving it yesterday, she noticed something strange. Whenever she turned a corner, the car made a loud noise. But when she drove straight, the car sounded normal. Nicole plans to take it to a repair shop this weekend.

Q: What is wrong with Nicole's car?

No. 23

Tim's family moved to a different town this week. Tim will start going to his new high school next Monday. Before then, he has to do some work that his new teachers gave him to help him catch up with his classmates. Tim is looking forward to making new friends at the school.

Q: What will Tim do next Monday?

No. 24

Attention, ladies and gentlemen. The Springfield Summer Parade will begin shortly. I'd like to ask everyone standing in the street to take a few steps back. Please move onto the sidewalk so that the people marching in the parade can get through. Thank you for your cooperation.

Q: What is the speaker asking people in the street to do?

No. 25

Today, many people around the world enjoy skateboarding. Skateboards became popular in California in the 1960s. At the time, there were many people in southern California who went surfing. But when the waves at the beach were not big enough for surfing, surfers looked for activities to do on land. They started to buy skateboards and ride them on sidewalks and roads.

Q: When did surfers in southern California use skateboards?

No. 26

Rebecca and Steven are getting married in August. They plan to have a party after the wedding ceremony. When Rebecca called their favorite restaurant to reserve it for the party, she found that it was closed on the day of the wedding. Rebecca and Steven were disappointed, but luckily Steven's parents offered to hold the party at their house instead.

Q: Why were Rebecca and Steven disappointed?

No. 27

In 2004, a new hotel was opened in Berlin. The hotel is unusual because it has an aquarium 25 meters high in its lobby. This huge fishtank contains about 2,600 fish. People can see the fish by riding an elevator that goes through the center of the aquarium. The hotel has two full-time divers who clean the aquarium and feed the fish.

Q: What is special about the hotel in Berlin?

No. 28

This is Principal Taylor. I'd like to announce the winner of our reading contest. As you know, there is a prize for the student who reads the most books in one month. The winner this month is Patricia Smith. She read 10 books and wrote a report on each of them. Patricia receives a gift card to use at Murray's Bookstore. Congratulations.

Q: How did Patricia Smith win the contest?

No. 29

Mary was invited to a party at a friend's house on Saturday. She asked her father to drive her there, but he was too busy. It was too far to go by bicycle, so Mary decided to take the bus. She met three of her friends on the bus. They were going to the party, too.

Q: How did Mary get to the party?

No. 30

When Vicky was walking home from school one day, she saw a sign for a cake-baking class at a community center. Vicky had always wanted to learn how to bake cakes, so she decided to join. She goes to the class every Wednesday evening. After class, she takes a cake home and eats it with her family.

Q: What does Vicky do every Wednesday evening?